What's a simple tool to remind you to take your medication? Wish you could instantly view relevant health information on your smartphone? These two questions are already answered by the Medibubble application. The idea is to encourage patients to use their medication by creating a bubble surrounding them. With the help of your medication, the program tracks your health condition, reminds you to take your medications, and provides you with specialized advice on medication. Users can also connect with other users or find the medication on a state or federal database. The application is simple to use and for each medication, users receive feedback on relevant information, such as side-effects and interactions with other drugs. Furthermore, it is a lot of fun, and it helps you feel good!

Medibubble Description: Medibubble is a mobile application that informs people on their health condition and reminds them to take their medications. The goal of Medibubble is to provide personalized medication information to patients by creating a bubble around them. The bubbles are colored so that it is easy to distinguish the bubble for medicine. If the user enters the bathroom, the bubble will close automatically. The program will:

- Track medication intake
- Remember the time
- Show the user's health condition
- Display the user's medication
- Help users remember to take their medication
- Push the user to the appropriate website
- Display the medication, indications, and warnings of each medicine
- Provide advice on medication
- Offer the user to connect with other users
- Be the ideal tool for patients in any place
