It's a good idea to first run the account creation wizard. This is because you need a valid email account for the operation to successfully reach an end. You can use an existing regular, Gmail, or AOL mail account. All credentials and connection details are then provided in the following step. It's possible to have details tested out before they are applied. CONFIGURATION Email Queue There's a handy option to queue email sending. The application prompts you to make the choices in a form of searchable tabs. Email Group There are several ways to send the same emails. For instance, you can establish a keyword-based search system, or a list of domains. Email Destination You can either choose email addresses one by one, or look up source file with list of addresses. You can also add attachments to the emails. Plain Text The application can generate more than one plain text file depending on the options chosen. HTML The application can generate more than one HTML file depending on the options chosen. TABLE Tags The application can generate more than one HTML table depending on the options chosen. Footer of Emails After the sending process is done, you can specify a footer for all sent emails. The footer supports a variable-parameter of different types. You can insert a logo, logo of your company, address, marketing message, or just plain text. Plain Text The application can generate more than one plain text file depending on the options chosen. ### What's New in the TLN E-mail Sender (formerly TLN Auto Bulk Email Sender)?

Take your business to the next level by sending mass mailings. TLN E-mail Sender is a simple application that has the power to send large amounts of emails in bulk. YouTube has a nice video of a detailed review of how to use the Internet Explorer 10 Mail app. It comes in two versions, one is for Windows 7, the other for Windows 8. Using the Internet Explorer 10 Mail App With help from Windows 8 Mail App & Internet Explorer Mail App it's very easy to send & receive email from your computer. Windows 8 Mail App & Internet Explorer Mail App gives you fast & easy access to your email inbox. To use the Windows 8 Mail App go to the start screen, type mail and choose mail app. You can use email to send text messages to other Windows 8 devices, like the new Windows Phone 8 device. Just press the phone number you want to text on your computer and enter a message. Everything you type will go through to your phone via the Internet. All you'll see is a live address bar. Your friend's name and phone number will show up as if you were typing on the phone. Windows 8 Mail App & Internet Explorer Mail App also includes a new Conversation view that shows email as a series of conversations. Just click on conversations to see the email threads. You can even send different types of emails. You can attach a photo, you can add a document, image, and attach files to your email. Use the keyboard to type your text, or use on-screen buttons on your keyboard to quickly change back and forth between pages. Using the Windows 8 Mail App & Internet Explorer Mail App, you can also send and receive text messages on all of your Windows 8 computers, and your Windows Phone, too. To send a text message, type the phone number or address you want to send a text to, then tap the text box at the bottom of the screen. You can also text messages to other Windows 8 devices, just like your Windows Phone! Using Windows 8 Mail App & Internet Explorer Mail App, you can now send and receive text messages to all of your Windows 8 devices, your Windows Phone, and your iPhone. Just like all apps that access your email, you can attach files, images, and even voice and video messages. You can send and receive text messages using your Windows
